

November 8, 2017

Dear Health Care Professional,

As a result of a manufacturing issue, Quillivant XR® (methylphenidate HCl) oral suspension and QuilliChew ER® (methylphenidate HCl) chewable tablet will experience a supply shortage. Quillivant XR will experience a supply shortage as soon as November 2017. QuilliChew ER will experience a supply shortage beginning December 2017.

Pfizer is working diligently to resolve the issue, however the duration of the supply shortage is unknown at this time. In the interim, health care professionals should use their clinical expertise to determine the best treatment for their patients.

Pfizer realizes that this disruption may cause concern for you and your patients, and we sincerely apologize for this disruption. Pfizer will send out another alert once the product is back in adequate supply at our wholesalers. We appreciate your patience and understanding as we work to resolve this issue.

Health care providers are encouraged to report adverse events, including product defects, by contacting Pfizer at 1-800-438-1985 or by contacting the FDA at <http://www.fda.gov/Safety/MedWatch> or by calling 1-800-FDA-1088.

If you have any medical inquiries regarding Quillivant XR or QuilliChew ER, please contact Pfizer Medical Information at 1-800-438-1985.

Pfizer Inc.

Please see accompanying full Prescribing Information, including BOXED WARNING for Quillivant XR and QuilliChew ER.